REDESIGNING THE LEGAL PROFESSION
FOR A BETTER FUTURE

We Can No Longer Ignore Well-Being in Our Profession

Too many lawyers are not thriving, and a significant number struggle with mental health and alcohol use disorders. Many others, while not dealing with a diagnosable illness, still are not fully well. The result is that many lawyers are unable to be their best for themselves and their families, clients, colleagues, and communities.

Organizations such as yours can help become the catalyst for change!

Why Attend

IWIL's first annual conference is an education event focused on redesigning the legal profession to support individual, organizational, and institutional thriving. The theme is innovation through new ideas and practical strategies.

This year's event will offer separate tracks for individual wellbeing, workplace well-being (for people designing organizational well-being programs), law school well-being, and leading law firm well-being (for law firm partners and other organizational leaders). The virtual conference will provide you with the opportunity to develop new relationships and showcase your organization's expertise to an engaged audience.
